

Dear Colleagues,

We have just completed our annual symposium in Montreal. The conference, held together with three other Canadian scientific societies, was a resounding success both scientifically and socially.

Our next annual conference will be convened in May 2012 in Kelowna. It is very important that we should offer again an outstanding scientific program that will interest a wide cross-section of our membership. Therefore I invite each of you to submit proposals for scientific sessions. The length of sessions is typically 2 to 2.5 hours and may contain 3, 4 or 5 presentations.

The proposals should include its title, its background and rationale, the organizer(s), and preferably suggested speakers (without their commitment at this time). Please send your proposals to nhprs.conference@ubc.ca . The deadline for submitting proposals is Wednesday September 28th, 2011.

Thank you for your contributions to developing an excellent scientific program in 2012.

Best regards,

Emma (Tomlinson) Guns, PhD
President
Natural Health Products Research Society of Canada (NHPRS)